

Good Shepherd Education Center

Camp Hill, Pennsylvania

Good Shepherd Education Center, located in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania is a new 39,000 square foot, two story, K-8 Catholic elementary school. The project was designed and constructed through a design build partnership with Conewago Enterprises, Inc. of Hanover and utilized insulated precast concrete load bearing wall construction. The facility opened for the 2007 school year and was constructed adjacent to the existing school to permit uninterrupted school operations. The new facility includes 16 classrooms, library, computer and science labs, art room, gymnasium, and kitchen.
